

RUTGERS

School of Arts and Sciences

SPRING 2021 LECTURE SERIES

Center for Human Evolutionary Studies

All Lectures will be hosted on Zoom

A General Model for the Paleoecology of the Now Submerged Palaeo-Agulhas Plain, an Extinct Ecosystem Crucial to Modern Human Origins

Curtis Marean (Arizona State University), February 26, 3:30pm

The Promises and Challenges of Primate Paleogenomics: Insights from the Nuclear Genome of a Large Extinct Lemur Megaladapis edwardsi

Stephanie Marciniak (Penn State), March 12, 3:30pm

The Changing Landscape of Hominin Evolution—A View from Afar

Chris Campisano (Arizona State University), March 26, 3:30pm

Revealing the African roots of Homo sapiens

Brenna Henn (University of California, Davis), April 16, 3:30pm

Water insecurity and Human Biology: Environmental Exposures, Nutritional Adaptations, and Health Implications

Asher Yoel Rosinger (Penn State University), April 30, 3:30pm

Who, What, Where & How: Trade-offs in Multi-factor Foraging Decisions by Vervet Monkeys

Julie Teichroeb (University of Toronto), May 7, 3:30pm

Zoom Link:

<https://rutgers.zoom.us/j/99232710595?pwd=RXZINStSSGFQMFJNKzBuM1pBcWo0dz09>

evolution.rutgers.edu